

Discussion: Forecasting Volatility of Wind Power Production

Lining Yu

Ladislaus von Bortkiewicz Chair of Statistics
C.A.S.E. - Center for Applied Statistics and Economics

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

<http://lvb.wiwi.hu-berlin.de>

<http://www.case.hu-berlin.de>

Summary

- Wind Power Volatility Forecasting.
- High frequency data in application.
- Different models comparison.
- MRS-GARCH outperforms other models.

Questions

- How do you choose the frequency of realized volatility?
- Which kind of non-linear behaviour of wind power data?
- Why don't you use more regime in your model?